People, places and trivia.

4/25/2008

Now that the weather is a lot nicer, it's time to rediscover some parts of this city.

There are lots of walking tours taking place in the next little while.

There is the Jane's Walk - which will take place on May 3 & 4.

Heritage Toronto has been doing their historic walk for a few weeks now.

This weekend they are doing a Terra Cotta Walking Tour in downtown Toronto.

Every year at this time the Royal Ontario Museum does ROMwalk; the weekend of May 7th they are doing Sculptures in the City-look for the Blue Umbrella.

Of course the City of Toronto has its Discovery Walks.

If you want to know more about the trees that dot our city, you can check out Toronto Tree Tours.

Then there's the Muddy York Walking Tours.

A self-guided, online walking tour, called Adventure City Tours offers downloadable guides for six major cities in North America (Toronto being one of them).

Then, of course, there is the now famous Bruce Bell Tours.
